Today we will continue reading Hansel and Gretel until the children come to the house.

I can see...

I think...

I wonder...

TTN:

Who do you think the house belongs to?

And they went on eating. Hansel pulled down a huge piece of the roof, while Gretel took out a whole window pane, and sat down to enjoy it.

From another window an old woman watched them. Suddenly, the door opened and she hobbled out. Hansel and Gretel were so terrified that they dropped the food. But the old woman shook her head, and said, “Well, my dear children, who brought you here? Come in and stay with me, no harm will come to you.” She took them both by the hand and drew them indoors.

A meal of milk, pancakes and sugar, apples and nuts was spread out on the table. After they had eaten, Hansel and Gretel were shown two pretty little beds where they lay down, and thought themselves in Heaven.

Task: Answer the VIPER questions based on the text you have just read.

You either complete Group 1 or Group 2 questions. The correct worksheet has been assigned to you on Seesaw.

Group 1

And they went on eating. Hansel pulled down a huge piece of the roof, while Gretel took out a whole window pane, and sat down to enjoy it.

From another window an old woman watched them. Suddenly, the door opened and she hobbled out. Hansel and Gretel were so terrified that they dropped the food. But the old woman shook her head, and said, "Well, my dear children, who brought you here? Come in and stay with me, no harm will come to you." She took them both by the hand and drew them indoors.

A meal of milk, pancakes and sugar, apples and nuts was spread out on the table. After they had eaten, Hansel and Gretel were shown two pretty little beds where they lay down, and thought themselves in Heaven.
